LANGUAGE COURSE: GERMAN FOR THE JOB

Learn German - on the job and with a practical orientation: Language skills are a key competence in the professional environment. Communication with colleagues and customers is the basis for effective, co-operative cooperation and successful integration.

CONTENTS

- Level B1 to C1 according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.
- Depending on the language level achieved, our modules comprise 80 to 300 teaching units and are structured in terms of general language content with job-related content. Topics include communication and learning in the workplace, job search, vocational orientation, training and further education, as well as the legal framework.
- If the number of participants is sufficient, we are happy to organise tailor-made lessons for specific professions such as German in care, German for educators or commercial-technical German.

IMPLEMENTATION

A placement test is carried out before the start of the course, unless you have passed an official exam, e.g. TelC, less than 6 months ago. Qualified and experienced DAF-DAZ instructors teach the language course content live and interactively at set times via our virtual classroom using an online textbook. Supplementary teaching material is provided for self-study.

COSTS

We will be happy to provide you with a customised offer.
