PROFILING TO SUPPORT INTEGRATION INTO WORK OR TRAINING

Your professional and social skills are worked out as part of the intensive profiling process. This makes it easier for you to develop a realistic and targeted application strategy. You will become aware of your skills and qualifications and can show your potential employer what you are made of. At the same time, support and qualification needs can be recognised. The first step towards finding a suitable job or training position.

CONTENTS

Individual appointments with the following topics:

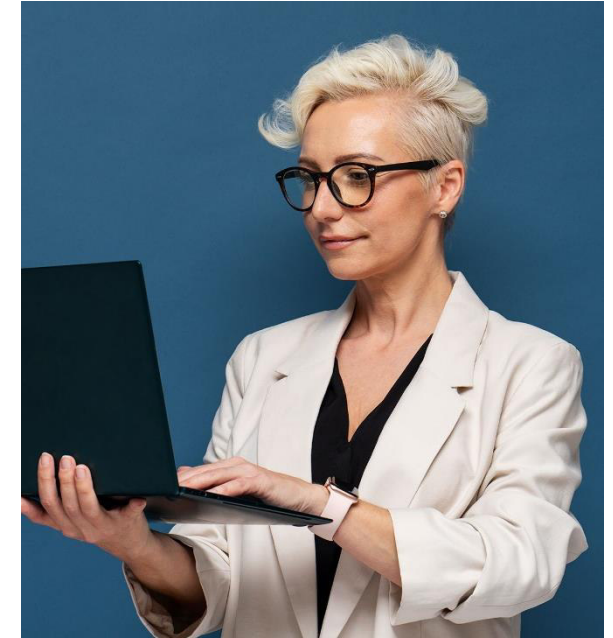

- Creation of an individual and comprehensive competence profile using recognised profiling tools
- Possible deepening of the profile through subject-specific work tasks
- Potential and performance analysis
- Preparation of application documents based on the profiling results
- Development of a realistic application strategy
- Comparison of candidate profile/job profile

BENEFITS

Your personal skills profile is created through intensive profiling. It shows which job profile suits you and where there is still room for improvement. This is the first step towards finding a new job that is a perfect fit for you. Recognising your own strengths is the prerequisite for career entry/success.

TYPE OF DEGREE

You will receive a certificate of attendance.

DURATION

Profiling scope 30 teaching units of 45 minutes each
