PROFILING TO SUPPORT INTEGRATION INTO WORK OR TRAINING

Your professional and social skills are worked out as part of the profiling process. This makes it easier for you to develop a realistic and targeted application strategy. You become aware of your skills and qualifications and can show your potential employer what you are made of. At the same time, you will be able to recognise the need for support and qualification. The first step towards a customised job or apprenticeship search.

CONTENTS

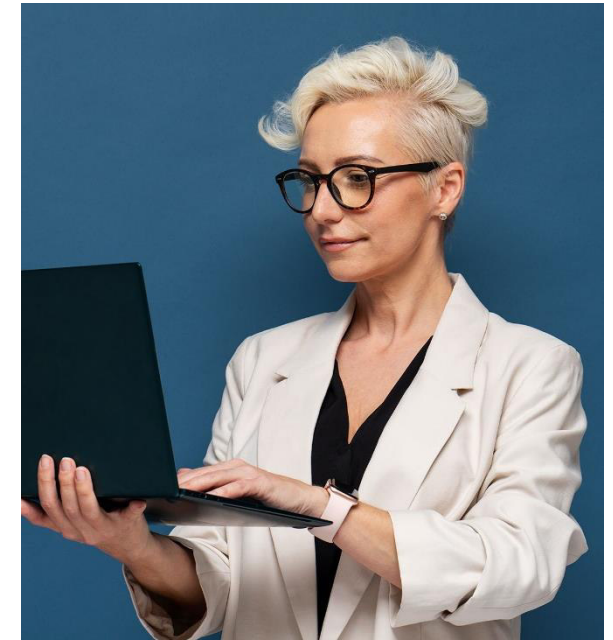

- Creation of an individual and comprehensive competence profile using recognised profiling tools
- Potential and performance analysis

BENEFITS

Profiling is used to create your personal skills profile. It shows which job profile suits you and where there is still need for support. This is the first step towards finding a new job that is a perfect fit for you.

TYPE OF DEGREE

You will receive a certificate of attendance.
